DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12 and 36-37 are drawn to Computer to computer data transferring, classified in class 709, subclass 232.
 - II. Claims 13-32 are drawn to Computer to computer protocol implementing, classified in class 709, subclass 230.
 - III. Claims 33-35 are drawn to Computer to computer data addressing, classified in class 709, subclass 245.
2. Inventions of Groups I, II, and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the elements for patentability of Group I does not require elements of Group II and Group III, the elements for patentability of Group II does not require elements of Group I and Group III, and the elements for patentability of Group III does not require elements of Group I and Group II.

The subcombination has separate utility because: in Group I, the limitations pertaining to switching modes (asynchronous/synchronous) within the network controller wherein the controller selectively controls the mode of operation such that communication among the remote devices can occur; in Group II, the controller must be configured to operate according to a command protocol and has nothing to do with the rate of transmission/reception; and lastly, in Group III, the controller is employed to direct communication using address bits rather than establishing communication based on rate or establishing communication pertaining to the protocol type.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to Andrew T. Spence (Reg. No. 45,699) on May 11, 2006 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Michael Y. Won whose telephone number is 571-272-3993. The examiner can normally be reached on M-Th: 7AM-5PM.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Saleh Najjar can be reached on 571-272-4006. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
